To Whom It May Concern:

Several years ago we were faced with a dilemma. Our software was written back in the DOS days and the developer was not supporting it anymore. We have a main store in El Campo, TX and 4 outlying facilities that all report to our main office. Most of our work was having to be sent to our main office and hand entered and we were doing much of what we do manually.

I called in TradeWinds which sat down with my staff and did a thorough evaluation. They then tied all 5 of our stores together over the Internet so that we became basically one office electronically. Now anything that was done at an outlying store was automatically updated on our main system. They worked with a software vendor out of Houston to get a new server and network in for us. They then revamped their rough rice program to meet our needs and created a seed program that worked with our new rough rice program.

The best thing about TradeWinds is their constant commitment to keeping our software cutting edge and making sure that my staff has help when they need it.

I highly recommend TradeWinds for all of your software needs.

Sincerely,
